COLUMBIA RIVER GORGE

*High in the snow fields of the Rockies
the mighty Columbia is born.*

Glacier water, ice cold and frothing tumbles over the boulder strewn bed of a mountain spring.

*Meeting other forks and tributaries
each stream plunges as it descends, until at last all merge into the Columbia
... the greatest power river in America.*

*Home of the king salmon is the river, spawning grounds, graveyard for the

*Rolling on toward the sun,
the river thunders and foams
grinding out rapids and chasms.*

Then spreads out making peace with its banks as it flows to the ocean, in peaceful homage.

THE 1957 ALKI

FORT VANCOUVER HIGH SCHOOL
VANCOUVER, WASHINGTON
VOLUME II

The river with its peace and strife, is somewhat like the life of man. No returning again and again to tread familiar shores. But moving swift, or creeping slow, river and man travel on and on to destiny.

D E D I C A T I O N

We, the Alki Staff of 1957, hereby dedicate this Alki to Miss Dorothea von Berg, Assistant Principal at Fort Vancouver High School, in recognition of her many years of service to the student body. She has given students her active cooperation during her many years of teaching and counseling; so it is not surprising that she is well liked among the student body.

Born in Albert Lea, Minnesota, Miss von Berg attended the University of Oregon where she received her B.A. degree. As an English teacher she started her career at Vancouver High School, later attending Columbia University where she earned her M.A. degree. In 1934 she became Dean of Girls and adviser of the Girls' League. Two years ago when the school became Fort Vancouver High School she was given a new title, Assistant Principal, and became the counselor for the class of '58.

Throughout her many years of work with the school and an active participation in civic affairs, Miss von Berg has earned the highest reputation for her dependability, industry, fairness, understanding, and unquestioned integrity.

We recognize and appreciate her tireless efforts and enthusiastic interests.

For centuries poets have been writing about rivers and life as analagous to each other. Once again the thought comes to mind that as the Columbia River continues to roll along to the sea so will the graduating class of 1957 continue its course to adult life with the same hopes and aspirations that are cherished by all seniors.

These students will often look back on the fond memories of high school days—on the tributaries of the past—but their primary attention will be focused on the future which holds the promises of new experiences and more difficult milestones.

It is our hope as the teachers who have worked with you seniors, that we have helped to equip you with the best possible education in order that you may more successfully cope with the ever increasing complexities of life. Remember that often repeated sentence of Lincoln's, "I will study and get ready and maybe my chance will come."

To you the member of the class of 1957 I say, May you have success, happiness and be of service to your community. Best wishes for your future!

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM F. LOTHSPICH
Principal

INTERSTATE BRIDGE

"Rivers are moving roads, which carry one where one wishes to go."

— Pascal

MATHEMATICS. Many students take mathematics as part of their high school education to enable them to understand methods of scientific expression and investigation. Emphasis is placed upon clear thinking and logical reasoning plus the ability to apply its principles.

ENGLISH. The varied phrases of English through its main periods are treated in an attempt to allow students to acquire sufficient knowledge of its development and gain the ability to understand it.

DRIVERS' TRAINING. In the Drivers' Training course students learn how to handle a car correctly, just what makes a car tick, and the rules and regulations used when driving.

ART. This department attempts to stimulate a broader and more discriminating judgment of classical and modern art, to further the student's appreciation of its form and to allow creative tendencies to be expressed.

HISTORY. Man has learned through experience that we, as individuals as well as a nation, can benefit by gaining an adequate understanding of the present through a study of knowledge obtained from the past. This is what we know as history and unconsciously apply its principles to our everyday lives.

WOOD SHOP. To obtain a working knowledge of hand woodworking tools, making projects of their own choice, identifying various woods, and learning methods of wood finishing are the functions of Wood Shop.

AUTO MECHANICS. Auto Mechanics offers training opportunities for students wishing to enter the automotive industry. This training would be advantageous to persons who wish to become automobile mechanics, service station attendants, automobile salesmen, and automobile parts salesmen; since it gives the basic training, technical knowledge and information necessary for entry into these fields.

LANGUAGES. Language courses are so designed that a student gains knowledge of foreign customs, historical information, and the ability to speak and write a language of other people. The foreign language has a vital position in the world today and will aid the student in developing culture and broadening his outlook.

CHEMISTRY. To provide a basic understanding in the fundamentals of organic and inorganic chemistry is the main function. The course consists of lectures, laboratory work, problems, and theories regarding the laws of the universe.

HOME ECONOMICS. Students in the field of home economics are provided with helpful training for homemaking with emphasis on its problems and their solutions and the part it plays in the adjustment and successfulness of the individual's future.

PRINTING. Study the printing industry, and development are the objectives of the printing course. It offers pre-vocational training in one of the largest of our industries and develops education by giving a basic background for a group of future occupations.

COMMERCIAL COURSES. These classes aim to prepare students for employment on a full or part time basis. Among these courses offered: typing, shorthand and bookkeeping.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION. With a purpose to promote general health, good sportsmanship, and ability to participate in athletic games with a healthy competitive spirit, Physical Education plays a vital role in the life of every student.

Student Council goals for the school year 1956-57 were to promote car-registration and clean-up, to formulate plans and draw up a constitution for an inter Club Council, and to include more students in school government. Heading the council are the Student Body Officers: President John Doran, First Vice President Ray Groesbeck, Second Vice President Ann Schuthess, Secretary Janice Herman, Treasurer Carol Warner, Student Commissioner Gary Case, and Faculty Adviser Marvin Cummings. Terry Gierke undertook the car registration program and Gary Case took charge of the advisory clean up program. The major council achievement this year was the formulation and ratification of an Inter Club Council Constitution, prepared by Drea Daniels and her committee. The new council, which will be organized next fall, is designed to unite the activities of all Fort's clubs and organizations. The council co-operated with the faculty and Dad's Club in the promotion of the Parent's Night and rummage sale. A student body election named the Student Lounge Trapper Union Blockhouse and the student council was charged with TUB clean-up and furniture drive. Other council activities included a television program featuring Fort Vancouver, visits to traffic court for observation, participation on the Inter School Relations Council and in the Southwest Washington Association of Student Councils, several joint meetings with Hudson's Bay's Student Council.

QUEEN PAT I REIGNS OVER LOYAL SUBJECTS

CO CAPTAIN CHUCK CHRONIS CROWNS QUEEN PAT I

Highlighting the annual Homecoming festivities was the traditional crowning of Queen Pat I, by Chuck Chronis, co-captain of the Trapper football team, at "Shower of Stars", the Homcoming Dance sponsored by G. A. A.

"Sparks and Fire" was the theme of the Homecoming Rally, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, and held on the night of September 27. Noisemakers, pep, the introduction of our coach, Chuck Furno, and speeches by co-captains, Gordon Upkes and Chuck Chronis, made the evening an eventful one.

Former princesses, football coaches and VHS students gave short speeches offering sincere hopes for good luck at the game during the Homecoming assembly.

Defeating Longview by the score of 24-19, the introduction of the Queen and Court, helped to round out the day's activities during the half-time of the game.

ASSEMBLIES PORTRAY MUSIC, PEP, COMEDY

To promote pep and enthusiasm for all home football and basketball games, the Trapper Rally Squad led the F.V.H.S. Student Body in song and cheer. Clever skits were given, symbolizing the Trapper's opponents.

Fort Vancouver's drama department helped to present three one act plays titled "All American Boy", "The Monkey's Paw", and "Gloria Mundi", to the students. Portland University also presented Shakespeare's "As You Like It", Among the various musical assemblies presented, were parts from the Christmas, Fall, and Spring Concerts, and a special music department assembly. At Christmas traditional Christmas Carols were sung, and the A Cappella choir marched through the darkened auditorium bearing small effective lights.

Probably one of the most enjoyed assemblies of the year is the "Tolo Kangaroo Court" assembly. Students who have violated the rules of Tolo Week are called upon to pay the penalty. "Anthony and Cleopatra" was the theme of the Student Council Assembly, which proved to be amusing to students and faculty.

DANCERS WHIRL AMIDST LIVELY DECORATIONS

Alumni and students alike celebrated the Trapper's victory over Longview at the Homecoming Dance. Pat Waddle was crowned Queen Pat I by Chuck Chronis, co-captain of the evening's game. The dance was planned and supervised by the G.A.A.

Trappers wearing all types of gaily decorated stockings, turned out in number for the "Sock Dance." Sponsored by the Retail Sellers, each person brought one can of food as admission to help furnish a Thanksgiving dinner for Vancouver residents.

"Tinsel Twinkle" was the theme of the annual White Christmas Ball sponsored by the Boys' League and Triad Club. Traditional Christmas decorations were donned throughout the gym. Christmas carols were sung, and a variety of entertainment was presented.

Set to the theme of "Rhythm in Gingham", this year's Tolo Dance, held on the evening of March 22, was climaxed by the coronation of Ralph Liedtke as Tolo King. The Tolo court included Don Polen, Gary Newman, Paul Cannard, Ray Groesbeck, and King Ralph.

FOOTBALL

Competing in the newly organized SWW League, the 1956 Trapper Football Team compiled an admirable record with seven wins and three losses. Thirty players and three managers earned a varsity letter during their triumphant season. Fort Vancouver finished second place in the SWW League and in nineteenth place in the All-State Press Polling

Displaying an exceptionally heavy line and a very fast backfield, the Trappers won the annual Homecoming game against Longview 25-19. Breaks in the Camas-Fort Vancouver game led to all three touchdowns as the Trappers defeated the Papermakers 13-6. Getting practice for next year, the Juniors rallied over Woodrow Wilson by downing the Portlanders 44-6

Named by the coaches to the local All-Conference first team were Gordon Upkes, Chuck Chronis, Gary Newman, and Danny Russell. Mike Collins was on the second team. Gordon Upkes received a higher honor by being singled out for the All-State team with Chuck Chronis an alternate. Danny Russell was chosen the Outstanding Player, Gary Newman team captain, and Chuck Chronis inspirational player.

TEAM PLACES EIGHTH

Displaying a continual desire to win, the Trappers ran up a spectacular seasonal record of 24 wins and only 3 losses, a record of which Fort Vancouver is proud.

Having been victorious in all pre-season games and in all but one league game, the Trappers took first place in District. They then displayed their red and white colors at Seattle in the State Tournament. They they played four tight games, emerging victorious from two, one a close overtime game. The cry "Let's place at State" became a reality for the second year in a row as the Trappers came home with eighth place. This is the second time the Trappers have placed at State since they brought home the first place trophy in 1938.

G.A.A.

With a diminished, but increasingly active G.A.A. of approximately 215 members, the largest organization in the school is engaged in one of its most successful years. Miss Dora Hauck, assisted by a staff of interested students, has ably conducted a program of seasonal sports such as volleyball, basketball, table tennis, badminton, softball, and bowling. This year the girls have enjoyed various playdays with other schools in the area. The coming of spring brings the annual walking and bicycle hikes in which the girls participate. Intramural activities such as these enable a girl to win a letter, based on 60 activities and 40 social points. She is then given membership in the Lettergirls' Club, which, working under student officers has a planned monthly activity.

By far the largest single project handled by the G.A.A. is the sponsorship of the annual Homecoming Dance, held during football season. "Shower of Stars", this year's dance, proved to be one of the most popular dances of the season. Other activities included the selling of programs and pom-poms, attending out-of-town conferences and playdays, and holding a Christmas party.

SENIORS

As the river flows on so will the Senior Class of 1957. Into the unknown future 250 young people will venture, their minds still reeling from the fun and excitement of senior activities coming one right after another

Headed by an all star cast, members of the class appeared in the Senior Class play, "Icebound" and the one-act play "Gloria Mundi" Although they were not victorious in the play contest, the seniors gave a very creditable performance. At the annual College Conference, seniors learned interesting and informative facts about the colleges of their choice. As a farewell gift to the school, the Senior Class presented the Student Body with a movie camera to be used for starting a memory file on film. They also donated $100 to the Alki Staff for a bigger and better yearbook

Climaxing the year, the Senior Class presented to the Student Body the annual Farewell Assembly. The Commencement Ball, held under the sponsorship of the Elks, was attended jointly by seniors from Fort Vancouver and Hudson's Bay and their dates
